

The graph displays two time series over a horizontal axis from 0 to 10. The blue line represents a continuous signal with multiple peaks, the highest of which is around x=0.5. The orange line represents a sparse signal with sharp, vertical peaks, the highest of which is around x=2.5. The orange line also has several smaller peaks throughout the range.

